

CITY DESOLATED BY 3-DAY BLIZZARD

TRAINS QUIT RUNNING AS TRACKS CLOSE

Nearly a Dozen Trains Are Held
In Snow Drifts Here
And Nearby

WIRE SERVICE CRIPPLED

Sleet Storm Near Milwaukee
Cuts Off Communication
With South

Railroad service was completely paralyzed, telephone and telegraph service was curtailed, local traffic except for street cars was at a standstill and the city was without a milk supply or outside mail Tuesday morning as a result of a blizzard that started Sunday afternoon.

It was a desolate city that the people looked out upon when they arose Tuesday morning. Huge drifts were everywhere, some of them 15 feet high in the outlying districts. Sidewalks were buried under almost two feet of snow and roads were impassable except where the city street crews and street cars had tried to open them.

Snow fell for almost 48 hours, beginning Sunday afternoon and a high wind that came up Monday afternoon whipped it into hard packed drifts that gained in depth throughout the night. Most of Monday evening's activities were suspended.

The street department made a hard fight against the raging storm and kept all of its men and equipment busy all night forcing back the snow on some of the principal streets to make traffic possible for emergencies.

NO MILK SUPPLY

Trains moved Monday until late afternoon or early evening, when they had to give up and stopped at the stations. Several trains were held up at Appleton, and several at Oshkosh and other points along the line. No attempt was made to plow out the lines until the wind subsided. Buses also were put out of service. Taxicabs had more calls than they could handle and kept running into about 2 o'clock Tuesday morning. The streets then became impassable and their suspended business until noon when the major traffic streets had been opened by the city with the help of two tractors, teams with scrapers and an army of shovelers. No mail reached the post office after 6 o'clock in the evening. Farmers and milkmen were unable to negotiate the country roads to supply the city. Rural rail carriers who live outside the city could not come in to get their mail. Few delivery trucks were operating and only a few teams were in session as usual. Schools were closed at 5 o'clock, but only about 50 per cent of the children ventured out.

PEOPLE HERE CONSIDER THEMSELVES FORTUNATE

As there is only a temporary blockade, while in the vicinity of Milwaukee there was a sleet storm and the various communities and isolated the various communities. It is said to resemble in severity the sleet storm here in February, 1922, with loss of perhaps a million dollars.

It will be perhaps two days before normal conditions are restored here. The blizzard.

THE LAST TRAINS TO ARRIVE IN APPLETON

The last trains to arrive in Appleton from Chicago and Northwestern railroad were northbound on the Northern Wisconsin division due here at 2:45 in the afternoon and the Ashland division train from Antigo due at 3:50. These trains battled their way as far as Appleton Junction and then gave up. They are snowed in and await awaiting the clearing of the lines by snowplows.

TRAIN DISPATCHING BY TELEGRAPH FROM THE JUNCTION WAS POSSIBLE AS FAR AS FOND DU LAC TO THE SOUTH

The handicap to service because of a disabled wire system was confined to the region further south.

No attempt was being made by the Northwestern road to open its lines Tuesday until the wind had ceased and there was little prospect of train service of any kind until Wednesday. Ploving out of the right-of-way would make the situation more serious than it is at present, officials said, because the cut thus formed would fill in to the top with drifting snow, making a much larger quantity that would have to be shunted aside.

ENGINE DERAILED

Conditions were made worse for the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway because an engine is derailed near the Riverside papermill Monday. It arrived in Appleton 3 o'clock in the afternoon bringing the mixed train usually due at 11:30 in the morning and was disabled just before it reached the local depot. This was the only engine within the city at the time and it must lie idle until another one makes its way here to help place it on the rails. Service probably will not be restored for more than 24 hours.

SERVICE ON THE S&O LINE ALSO IS SUSPENDED

The last train to arrive in Appleton was at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon and the local division now is snowed in completely. Little was done (Continued on Page 12).

U.S. MOURNS AT WILSON'S BIER

Simple Guard Of Honor To Escort Body At Funeral

Sees, Hears; Raises Dispute

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A fringe of folk on the street before the Wilson home waiting to see the great ones, who came and went and the guardian police, who turned unnecessary traffic from the steep, narrow street, alone marked outwardly Tuesday the preparations for last honors to the dead war president.

No marshaling of troops for the parade of sorrow was needed; no settling of lines that thousands might pass beside the bier, for he will go to his long sleep Wednesday in the character in which death found him—a plain American citizen with the days of his place and high dignities past aside forever.

With only the two brief religious services to mark the entombment, in the vault beneath Bethlehem chapel on the hills high above the stricken home, there was little that official Washington could do to mark its respect and admiration for the life that had ended. Had Mrs. Wilson wished otherwise, unattested honors would have been poured out to mark the nation's mourning. Even as it is, in every military and naval post, beneath the stars and stripes last honors will be paid in full with the booming of guns sounding a knell beneath half-masted colors. For the thirty day period of national mourning already declared, President Coolidge has thrust aside all social activities at the White House.

FEW AT FUNERAL

Very few of the many who would come to express their feelings at the service, if they could find place, can be admitted to the private exercises in the home or the later public ceremony at the chapel. At the home only the

NO SERVICE HERE

No arrangements have been made here to pay respects to Woodrow Wilson, late president, when his funeral occurs Wednesday afternoon. Some believe a short period of silent tribute would be fitting but no plans were under way up to an early hour Tuesday morning. He has offered to lend his assistance in any movement to honor the deceased war president.

THE MEN DIE

John Grotz, 40 Joseph Doyle, 52, and Carl Anderson, 32 died during the night from exhaustion caused by battles with the blizzard in an attempt to reach their homes.

Virtually every connection with the outside world was cut off this morning. Telephone and telegraph companies reporting facilities further damaged last night. The snowstorm and gale came on the heels of one of the most damaging sleet storms in the history of Wisconsin has prostrated virtually all telephone and telegraph wires in the southern section of the state and caused much delay in electric railroad service between here and Chicago because of broken trolley wires.

CHICAGO — THE CENTRAL AND MIDDLE WESTERN STATES FROM MINNESOTA TO TEXAS ARE DIGGING THEMSELVES OUT OF THE SNOW DRIFT

Chicago — The central and middle western states from Minnesota to Texas are digging themselves out of the snow drifts Tuesday, after one of the worst blizzards of the winter tied up railroad traffic and wrought havoc with wire communication, with estimated losses of several million dollars. Chicago is almost isolated. The Chicago office of the Associated Press, the largest news relay point in the (Continued on Page 12).

VETERAN NAVAL OFFICER DIES IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON—Rear Admiral Thomas Oliver Selfridge, retired, died at his home here Monday of heart disease. He would have passed his 88th birthday Wednesday.

Admiral Selfridge and his father, who bore the same name and attained the same rank, served the navy for 104 years, the elder enlisting in 1818. The younger achieved fame in the Civil war.

THREE YOUNG BANDITS TAKE $6,000 FROM BANK

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif.—The Eureka Valley Branch of the bank of Italy was entered by three young bandits today and robbed of approximately $6,000 in coin and currency.

BANK CLOSES AFTER RUN BY DEPOSITORS

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The Farmers Savings Bank here with deposits of $506,000 failed to open its doors today. The closing of the bank was caused by a heavy run on the bank.

MILWAUKEE SOCIALIST CALLS WILSON "CZAR"

MILWAUKEE—The Milwaukee common council late Monday by a rising vote adopted a resolution expressing condolences to Mrs. Woodrow Wilson in the death of the former president after Daniel Hoan had practically refused to send such a telegram to Washington. The mayor, speaking to newspaper men, refused to comment on the death of Mr. Wilson further than to say that the governor in the official spokesman of the state and that any message should come from him.

PROBERS SEEK NEW TRAILS IN TEAPOT DOME OIL SCANDAL

WASHINGTON—An injunction proceeding to prevent further extraction of oil from the Teapot Dome and Elk hill reserves will be instituted by the government's special counsel in the oil and lease cases, as soon as President Coolidge signs the Walsh resolution accepted by congress.

GERMAN PAPERS BLAME WILSON FOR HARD PEACE

Berlin—Most of the Berlin papers in commenting on the death of former President Woodrow Wilson seem to find it difficult to follow the old adage not to speak ill of the dead. The majority of them consider that it was Wilson's "fourteen points" that brought Germany an unsatisfactory peace. His achievements are compared with those of Nikolai Lenin, the Tages Zeitung declaring "the great difference between them was that Wilson conferred on other nations the blessings of his disastrous experiments while Lenin made only his own people victims."

BOERSEN ZEITUNG SAYS: "ONE OF OUR TASKMASTERS HAS GONE TO HIS GRAVE"

Carl P. Biggeman, assistant cashier of the Chase National bank of New York, also has been summoned by the committee to present records relating to any remittances that may have been made between Sept. 1, 1921, and June 1, 1923, by that institution to any bank in Washington payable to the order of Sinclair or J. "We are going to bat now and we are going to play to win."

WHITNEY'S DAUGHTER ENGAGED TO BANKER

NEW YORK—Mr. and Mrs. Payne Whitney, Monday night, announced the engagement of their daughter, Joan, to Charles Shipman Payson of Portland, Me., son of Herbert Payson, investment banker.

Her mother was a daughter of General John Marshall Brown who served in the Civil war. The date for the wedding has not been set.

GERMANS FORBID DISPLAY OF MOURNING FOR WILSON

WASHINGTON, D. C.—By directions of the Berlin government, the German embassy has refrained from making any display of mourning for Woodrow Wilson.

No flag has been flown over the embassy at any time since Mr. Wilson's death, although the other embassies and legations have had their colors half-masted since the official notification reached them before noon on Sunday.

Baron Leopold Plessen, third secretary at the embassy, made this explanation:

"The German government considers the late Mr. Woodrow Wilson a private citizen and therefore has instructed the German embassy to refrain from any official display of mourning."

Three Escaped Convicts Shot Down By Posse

ANTON DORSCHNER, WHO CUT Wife's Throat, Dies in Hospital Monday Evening

THREW HIMSELF ON RAILS

Police Believe Slayer Cut Himself With Knife Before Car Hit Him

Jefferson City, Mo.—Death from the guns of a posse of prison guards ended Monday night the dash for liberty of the three desperate convicts who early Monday escaped from the Missouri penitentiary after killing James Hart, a guard.

HOLD INQUEST TODAY

An inquest into the death of Mrs. Dorschner was to be held by a coroner's jury in the city hall Tuesday afternoon. According to John A. Lonsdorf, district attorney, it is doubtful whether an inquest into Dorschner's death will be held.

Sheriff Otto H. Zuehlke, after investigating the case Monday expressed the belief that there was "more back of the motive for the crime than a mere quarrel over the body of the murdered man at the hospital was identified. Under Sheriff Otto H. Zuehlke, tracked the missing man in the direction of Potato Point but lost trail near the Chicago and Northwestern railway tracks.

THREW HIMSELF ON TRACKS

The place where Dorschner was struck by the trolley car was between Ryan's Crossing and Potato Point. According to the statement of Herbert Gressang of Little Chute, a passenger on the street car, it appeared that Dorschner had deliberately flung himself in front of the street car and attempted suicide. Although the motorman has not yet had opportunity to present a written report, his verbal statement coincided with that of Mr. Gressang. Two other passengers, Joseph DeBruin and Jacob Gankewski, land of Little Chute also witnessed the tragedy.

CONDUCTOR DIDN'T LOOK

The car, according to the police started forward over the sleet and snow covered tracks as the train bore down upon it. Seeing a crash imminent, the motorman threw on all his power but it was insufficient, the crushing it and dragging it 75 feet or more as passengers were hurled through the air and dropped about like so many bricks in a building collapse.

EVERY POLICE AMBULANCE ON THE SCENE

The scene was rushed to the scene and fire apparatus was called out. Firemen jerked up a part of the wreckage in order to extricate many of the injured.

The injured were nearly all workers on their way to places of employment and to the downtown district.

Charles DeWitt, conductor, and Herman Schenk, motorman of the car, Otto Rock, Hammond, Ind., engineer, Chester Hayes, Hammond, Ind., conductor, Louis Boyer, Hammond, Ind., switchman, and Charles Misch, Chicago, towerman for the Grand Trunk railroad, over whose tracks the train was proceeding, all were taken into custody for questioning by the police. Conductor DeWitt told the police that he did not see the train and gave the motorman a signal to go ahead. Misch, the towerman, saw the train but not until the car started forward and he was unable to warn the crew of the car.

Twenty five of the passengers were unconscious when picked up. A number of others riding on the rear platform escaped injury by jumping.

BOAT REPORTED MISSING BELIEVED TO BE SAFE

Melbourne, Australia—The American bark Narwhal, recently reported lost with approximately twenty-five "gentlemen adventures" is believed here to be safe with her crew at some out of the way port in the south sea. Word has reached here that the bark, cleared from Noumea, New Caledonia, and she is believed to be continuing her cruise among islands peopled by savages for the purpose of obtaining motion pictures.

KAUKAUNA IS CUT OFF FROM WORLD BY SEVERE BLIZZARD

Fire Department Keeps Entire Force On Duty As Precautionary Measure

Kaukauna — The Electric city is struggling under a heavy snow storm which has practically isolated the city. The wind blowing a heavy gale since Monday morning, has piled up banks of snow several feet high on most of the city streets.

No damage to property has been reported. Large glass fronts on several business establishments have been braced against the wind to protect them.

Street car and train service has been stopped. Trains on the Ashland division were abandoned early Monday afternoon, while those on the Wisconsin division were not held up until Monday evening. In spite of the efforts of the traction company to keep the tracks clear, a interurban was held in the cuts near the sanatorium. At 10:30 Tuesday morning one car had been brought to Kaukauna and the efforts of the crew and snow plow were used to extricate the other car. It was expected that service would be resumed between Appleton and Kaukauna late Wednesday afternoon.

DANGER FROM FIRE

The possibility of fire in Kaukauna presented the only real danger as a result of the storm. It would have been impossible for the fire truck to answer a call to the residential district. Extra precautions were taken, however, and both the day and night firemen as well as extra help were on duty all night. Eighteen men were prepared to answer fire calls and it necessary shovel the road open ahead of the truck.

There was no mail delivery Tuesday. The city carriers were dismissed in the morning with instructions to report during the afternoon and the postmaster, A. T. Mill, did not expect a mail train before Wednesday. The last pouch of mail was received at the postoffice about 3 o'clock Monday afternoon.

The chief at the railroad T. M. C. A. received instructions Monday afternoon to prepare 30 lunches for a crew of men who were expected from Green Bay with a snow plow. The plow, however, with its crew had not arrived up to Tuesday noon. The street lights about the city were out for a few hours Monday evening.

SEES TWO PLANS TO UNITE INDIA

Prof. R. A. Hannum Tells Lions His Observation Of Conditions There

"The Nationalist Movement in India," was the subject presented by Prof. R. A. Hannum of Lawrenceville in an address at the Lions club luncheon Monday noon at Conway hotel. He gave his personal observations of the political situation there, as he spent some time in India, and attended meetings of the groups about which he speaks.

There are in reality two nationalist movements in India, the professor said. One is that of Mohammed Ali and preaches a reunion of the 30 Mohammedan churches under the rule of the Sultan. The doctrine is warlike in its nature.

The other is known as the Gandhi movement, and is more in the nature of passive resistance. It consists of the followers of Gandhi, who led in an attempt to establish a boycott in India against English goods.

Gandhi, said the speaker, was a lawyer whose principal training was obtained in London. He gained an outstanding reputation by his defense of Indian coolies who were sent to Africa. These men were being mistreated by the English, and he disguised himself as one of them and went to Africa to defend them.

India is a universe in itself, for it has 212 languages and 7 religions, Prof. Hannum declared.

STOLEN CAR SOLD TO MAN AT NEENAH

A stolen automobile was recovered Sunday night by the Appleton police and incidentally William DeBruin, Second at Neenah, is out of $299 which he had paid for it.

About two weeks ago a man giving his name as Harry Boggs offered to sell him a Ford coupe. He said the car belonged to the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power company and that he was authorized to sell it for the company.

He showed a letter purporting to be one issued by the street car company and bore the supposed signature of the president of the company. After DeBruin bought the car, a friend suggested speaking to the police to see if the deal was valid.

By searching the stolen automobile records the police discovered that the machine was stolen on Nov. 21 from Herbert H. Schahn, 107 St. Paul ave., Milwaukee.

The Death Vigil

Photograph shows crowds in front of the Wilson home Sunday morning when the death of the former war chief was momentarily expected. A military guard was stationed about the residence and the streets were closed to traffic to prevent noise which might have disturbed the dying ex-president.

WELSH CHORUS IN PLEASING PROGRAM

Male Organization Sings Interesting Program Of Light Numbers

Although the weather made transportation almost impossible, Lawrence Memorial chapel was comfortably filled for the concert by the Welsh singers under auspices of Appleton Lions club Monday evening. Proceeds from the sale of tickets will go into the fund of $1,000 which the Lions club is earning to provide musical instruments for high school pupils.

The chorus lived up to its advance announcements. The group of singers, many of whom worked in coal mines in Wales until the chorus was organized, are excellent soloists but have coordinated their efforts to bring splendidly in ensemble numbers.

The program was made up almost entirely of "light" numbers and was thoroughly enjoyed. The duets and ensembles were particularly good.

The chorus did not arrive until a few hours before the concert because the storm had delayed their train. The singers were unable to leave Appleton and still are in the city.

RADIOISTS HELP NEWSPAPERS AND RAIL COMPANIES

Numerous Offers To Furnish News Reports Appreciated By Post-Crescent

The Post-Crescent Tuesday morning received practical assurance of the spirit of cooperation of its readers in the dozens of offers of radio set owners to furnish this newspaper with news reports broadcasted from station KYYW at Chicago. These offers of help were more appreciated than the mere words of thanks possible over the telephone could indicate. The Post-Crescent, however, was able to get an Associated Press telegraph wire through from St. Paul and was quite well protected on news matter originating outside of Appleton. If it were not for this service, readers today would have had to depend entirely on the help of radio receivers. Radio was of immeasurable assistance to railroad companies Monday night. All during the night the air was filled with messages from radio stations advising railroad headquarters of the location of their trains, many of which were held in snowdrifts. The station at Waupaca was especially instrumental in informing

DON'T INCLUDE TAX FREE INCOME IN YOUR REPORT

Uncle Sam's Revenue Collector Tells How To Save On Taxes

Appleton income tax payers can spare themselves a little labor and probably a little money by observing the items of income that are exempt from taxation. It happens not infrequently that taxpayers erroneously include items that are not taxable in their federal income tax returns according to A. H. Wilkinson, collector of internal revenue of the district of Wisconsin. The tax-free income need not be included even in the gross income or even mentioned in the return at all. If the tax-exempt income brings the net income to below $2,000 for a married person, that person need not file a return at all.

Among the tax-free items are the following: Life insurance benefits; paid-up death of the insured; returns of premiums on life insurance; annuities; annuity contracts; amounts received through health and accident insurance; or under workmen's compensation act; plus the amounts received; compensation under war risk insurance and vocational rehabilitation; soldiers' bonus; United States pensions for military and naval service during war; government allowances for widows in recognition for husband's services; rental value of dwelling of ministers; dividends not over $300 received by individuals from domestic building and loan associations; salaries paid by a state to officers or employees; value of property acquired by gift, bequest, devise or descent. The income from the last mentioned property is taxable, however.

RAIN SPOILS COFFEE CROP; PRICES ADVANCE

The wholesale price of coffee has advanced five cents a pound and the indications are it will go still higher. This is due to the condition of the Brazil crop which was badly damaged by rain. Fully one-third of the crop is said to be unfit for use. Canned goods will be higher also the coming year. Wholesale houses now are taking orders for the coming season's crop at an advance of from 10 to 15 per cent. This is the time of year canning factories are contracting for land and it is said the advanced price is due to farmers demanding a higher rental for their land.

Mail Bids To Sports Council Dancing Party

Invitations are being mailed to the Valentine dances which sports council of Appleton Womans club will give at Elk hall on Feb. 15. Those who wish to be sure of being counted among the 100 couples who will be admitted to the hall, may send a check for tickets to the women's clubhouse and the tickets will be mailed. A plan of telephone reservation is being worked out by which a reservation of tickets may be made by telephone and these will be held at the door until a few minutes after 8 o'clock on the night of the dance.

The precautions concerning the obtaining of tickets in advance for the party are being taken in order to insure that the hall will be crowded. The invitation list and those who can be accommodated at the party are limited only by the size of the hall. The leap year dance was attended by 100 couples, which was a capacity crowd.

Study Plans Of Church At M.E. Picnic

So that the older people may thoroughly enjoy the stereopticon slides and lectures on the various phases of the new church building at the church night program and supper of Methodist Episcopal church Thursday night, a group of young men and girls will entertain the children with stories and games in another part of the building. Last November a program similar to this was arranged and was attended by over 600 persons. The program at 6:30 Thursday night is on the same order and is called an indoor picnic.

The circles of the social union are competing with each other to see which group will secure the largest attendance. It is rumored that a silver loving cup or some other prize will be awarded to the circle that can show the greatest number of recruits. A program of stunts also has been planned.

The slides will include pictures of the new church building, the floor plans and exteriors and interiors. A number of talks by various members of the parish will be a part of the booster program for the new building. The talks will include remarks by Mrs. A. B. Fisher and Mrs. M. J. Sandborn on "The Women's Standpoint," J. G. Rosebush on "The Needs of the Sunday School," Dr. Samuel Plantz on "The Relations of the New Building to the College; Dr. J. A. I do my housework, have a good chicken, and in harvest time I worked in the field and helped pick corn. Sometimes I do chores and milk. I took the Vegetable Compound before and after my four-months-old baby was born, and it has always helped me wonderfully. ## ONE ROOM SCHOOLS IN STATE MUST GO, CALLAHAN'S VIEW

Consolidation is Only Way To Give Rural Pupil Training He Needs

By Associated Press
Madison — The one-room school must be replaced by consolidated rural schools wherever possible, according to John Callahan, state superintendent of public instruction. The rural school situation as summarized by Superintendent Callahan in a statement follows:

There are 6,500 one-room schools in Wisconsin.

There are 1,427 rural schools enrolling 15 pupils or less.

There are 450 rural schools enrolling more than 45 pupils.

A total of 160,290 children attend the rural schools.

There are 4,500 teachers in the state with less than two years academic and professional training beyond high school.

4,200 rural schools have an 8-month school year.

16,000 boys and girls live in districts where high school opportunities are not offered.

Seventy-five per cent is the average daily attendance in rural schools.

"This is the indictment against the one-room school," Superintendent Callahan said. "It is educationally inefficient. It cannot give to the future citizens of our commonwealth the fundamental elementary and high school education which the civic, social and economic problems which they must meet, demand."

"The children in the rural districts are entitled to the same educational opportunity offered to the children in urban districts. They are entitled to an enriched elementary education and a high school education in a community school close enough to them so that they can sleep each night under the same roof. They are entitled to the competition and emulation made possible by association with large numbers of other children. They are entitled to teachers trained in special subjects such as agriculture, home economics, manual arts, music and art. They are entitled to kindergartens. They are entitled to that social training which results from acquaintance with teachers and pupils. They are entitled to the same school year enjoyed by the children of our cities and villages. They are entitled to teachers adequately trained for their positions."

"How can this be brought about? Experience proves that when one-room rural schools are merged into community, centralized schools, teachers with adequate training are secured, the curriculum is enriched, the school year lengthened, the average daily attendance increased and proper grading of pupils obtained."

"Wisconsin has approximately ninety consolidated schools at the present time. Most of these are in the northern part of the state where settlements are newer and where local prejudices have not been built up. Under our present laws in order to bring about a consolidation, each district votes as a unit and the adverse vote of one can upset an entire proposed consolidation. This is undemocratic."

"The entire area proposed for consolidation should have one voting place. This should hold true when incorporated villages or cities are included."

Nyhus Reports Wisconsin Leads United States in Number Of Cattle

By Associated Press
Madison — Wisconsin's dairy cows are on the increase, showing an advance in number on January 1 this year compared with the same time last year of approximately 22,000 head, according to a summary of the livestock situation in the state announced by Paul Nyhus, federal crop reporter. The total number of dairy cows in the state is placed at 2,217,000 head.

"Reports from thousands of farmers make possible new livestock estimates as of January 1," the summary declares. "Up-to-date estimates of dairy cows in Wisconsin are 2,217,000 head. This is 22,000 head of 1 per cent more than a year ago. New York was the leading dairy state in 1920, but soon was surpassed by Wisconsin. Minnesota has made rapid gains in dairy cattle in recent years and this year for the first time outranks New York. Wisconsin still maintains her leadership with 458,000 more than Minnesota. Reports from other states indicate a general increase in dairy cattle during the past year of 1 per cent."

"Prices of milk took a downward course beginning in June, 1920 and were at low levels in 1921 and most of 1922. In fact, many farmers' confidence in the future of Wisconsin dairying was put to a severe test by the two years of low prices. Late in 1922, however, milk prices began to rise steadily and maintained a twenty-seven per cent higher level during 1923. With the encouragement of better milk prices, herds have been kept up, a few enlarged and in some herds, beef cattle have been replaced by milk cows."

Hog production in Wisconsin, however, is on the decline, the report declares. "The number of hogs on January 1 is placed at 1,891,000 head, or 2 per cent less than last year," the report states. "Less hog production is shown by a reduction in the number of sows and gilts for spring litters. Wisconsin farmers, in common with cornbelt farmers, began to expand heavily two years ago when hog prices were high compared to corn. The 1922 pig crop in the corn belt was twenty-five per cent greater than the year previous, and the 1923 crop was again larger. The result has been extremely large marketings, lower prices and now a declined production."

WISCONSIN SHOULD GROW OWN ALFALFA SEED, MOORE SAYS

University Of Wisconsin Farm Leader Says Farmers Can Save Money

An argument that Wisconsin should grow its own alfalfa seed and become independent of outside sources is advanced by R. A. Moore, purebred seed development and experimental leader of the University of Wisconsin agricultural college who is well known to Outagamie-co farmers. He believes Wisconsin can produce as good seed as can be produced from any other source.

"Wisconsin can grow her own alfalfa seed and grow it at a profit," Moore declared confidently. "It seems that the time is at hand, since Wisconsin is now acknowledged as the foremost purebred seed state in America, that we should not be dependent upon outside agencies for nearly all the alfalfa seed sown in our state."

Moore states that Wisconsin farmers have been dependent for many years upon the western grown alfalfa seed that has grown in Europe. This condition has grown to such an extent that farmers of the west or of some instances to take advantage of it, by boosting prices to the helpless eastern farmer. Moore believes there is no longer any reason for the persistence of this unfavorable condition.

"Variation in the price of alfalfa seed which results from year to year evidently discourages the eastern farmers in attempting to grow alfalfa," Moore holds. "We know that better seed than can be grown in Wisconsin cannot be produced and we feel that the time has come when Wisconsin should grow a considerable portion of her own seed."

In 1921 more than 2,500 bushels of seed were grown in the state. In 1922, which was not favorable for seed production, Wisconsin produced 1,500 bushels. "We don't know how much was produced by Badger farmers in 1923, but we do know that one single farmer produced 73 bushels of pure Grimm seed which averaged over three bushels per acre."

Moore states that alfalfa seed sets best in hot dry weather. The flower is so delicate that there is little seed produced when this condition prevails. A seed crop is secured usually at the expense of two hay crops which a farmer holds is too much of a loss for securing the seed. Moore promises that if light will be future considerably more growing possibilities for alfalfa in Wisconsin which he believes will cause a material increase in the seed production.

Moon Is Poor Guide For Planting, Haskin Warns

You may plant your garden vegetables and farm produce according to the phases of the moon, if that is your religion, but neither Frederic J. Haskin nor the United States department of agriculture will guarantee results.

A Seymour woman wanted to know full directions, but Mr. Haskin had to refer her to astrologists, if she persists in the belief that the phases of the moon influence the crops. She wanted to know what she should plant in "the dark of the moon."

An Appleton real estate man inquires whether the government publishes any books on home planning, building and financing. Mr. Haskin mentioned three booklets, "How to Own Your Own Home," and "The Zoning Law," at 5 cents each, and "Minimum Requirements for Small Dwelling Construction," at 15 cents each. The government does not accept stamps, but Mr. Haskin will produce the booklets for anyone interested who sends him the necessary amounts.

A woman in the northern part of the county has poetical leanings and wants to market her works. She also wants to take a course in short story writing, and is given the desired information.

A Shiocton man asks for the measurement of one side of an acre. If an acre were a perfect square, one side would measure 69.56 feet, Mr. Haskin said.

The Erie canal commences officially at Congress st. Troy Mr. Haskin told an Appleton inquirer. There are 35 locks in the canal.

Calendars continue to lead in popularity among the variety material given away free by Mr. Haskin. Last week he gave away 147 calendars. Four United States maps, two booklets on baking, canning, concrete, cook book, knitting and housecleaning.

OSHKOSH VOTING ON GOVERNMENT CHANGE

The people of Oshkosh were to vote Tuesday on a proposition of abandoning the commission form government which was introduced there several years ago. If the commission form of government is voted out, Oshkosh goes back to the aldermanic form. Several attempts were made in the past to overthrow the commission government but technical errors in the petitions prevented a referendum on the subject. A recall election to oust Mayor A. C. McHenry was defeated a few years ago. Meanwhile there is a movement on foot to change to the city manager form of government, provided the commission government is thrown out. Doubt has been raised as to whether it is necessary to go back to the aldermanic government. Attorneys at Oshkosh say that petitions may be filed to go direct from the commission form to the managerial form of government.

with an ample opportunity for the display of her whimsical humor as those which have made her famous well as the skill for foxytraying empor.

The neglected young wife as portrayed by Miss Young has only herself to blame for losing her husband in the first place, for she has failed to bring into the marriage state the flagon and charm of the courtship days. Eternal vigilance is the price of both charm and beauty, and this young wife like many another in real life ceased her vigil as soon as the clergyman pronounced the magic words making her a real wife. Well groomed hair gave way to tousled locks and curling papers. Carefully fitted gowns gave way to just as carelessly fitted dresses and even the once wisely complexion became muddy through lack of ordinary care.

The result was inevitable. The husband sickened of his bargain, and began to look elsewhere for the charm he found in his wife before marriage. She brokenhearted, for she truly loved him, tried in vain to win him back, but it was not until she witnessed a theatrical performance containing a situation similar to her own that she found the one way to gain success. She tried the method used in the play and not only compelled her husband to not only come back to her, but to actually beg for the chance to do so. To learn her secret will surely be worth much to any woman, and a fortune to one who feels that she is gradually losing the love of her husband.

"SILENT COMMAND" PROVES BRILLIANT SPECTACLE DRAMA

International intrigues against which the nation must guard constantly, form the basis of the William Fox production, "The Silent Command," the filming of which must have been a stupendous undertaking. The production opened a 3 days' run at the Elite theatre yesterday. Shots of the Panama Canal, the Atlantic and Pacific fleets and others showing a storm at sea, must have strained the steel nerves of cameramen and required the cast to face frequent danger while at work.

Edmund Lowe, in the role of Captain Richard Decatur, of the U. S. Navy, leaps from a sinking vessel into a sea that rages viciously on a rock-bound coast. He swims to a life-line and draws himself hand over hand to safety aboard a navy life boat.

The crew risks their lives not only in lowering the boat from the davits of a man of war, but again when they pull away into open sea rolling dangerously under a whipping gale.

Again, in the wireless room of the sinking ship, Lowe engages in a hand-to-hand struggle with Bela Lugosi, who appears as the agent of a foreign power intending to mine the Panama canal. The fight is very realistic. Water pours in from the battered door and portholes, but engulfing them as they struggle.

It is undoubtedly one of the best vehicles in which Miss Young has ever appeared as it furnishes her

SET NEW MARK FOR COLLECTION OF TAXES

Indications are that when the various amounts have been totaled, the tax receipts of last Thursday will equal $400,000 instead of $300,000. It was the biggest day the treasurer's office has ever experienced in any tax collection period.

Fred Bachman, city treasurer, was busy Monday opening the mail through which means many of the larger remittances had been made the last day of the tax collection period. A list of the delinquent income and personal property taxes will be completed at once, after which police will make a house to house canvass collection. A 2 per cent penalty will be imposed upon all back taxes.

more Ford cars and trucks were produced last year than the previous year, an increase of over 50 per cent.

In spite of this tremendous increase in production, it was impossible to meet delivery requirements during the spring and summer months when orders for 350,000 Ford Cars and Trucks could not be filled.

This year winter buying for immediate delivery has been more active than ever before—and in addition 200,000 orders have already been booked through the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan for spring delivery.

These facts clearly indicate that the demand during this spring and summer will be far greater than ever, and that orders should be placed immediately with Ford Dealers as a means of protection against delay in securing your Ford Car or Truck or Fordson Tractor.

A small deposit down, with easy payments of the balance arranged, or your enrollment under the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan, will put your order on the preferred list for spring delivery.

LETTER FROM RICHARD SUMMERS TO HIS FIANCEE, BEATRICE GRIMSHAW

MY DEAR BEATRICE:
 I am not going to apologize even though I haven't written you for two weeks. I don't know where the time has gone. I work early and late. At times it seems to me as though I can never finish what I have begun.

I've written you a good deal about Miss Perier and from your last letter I gathered that something I said prejudiced you against her. I am sure if you could see her, Bee, you would not feel this way at all. With her quaint little French-accented idioms and her constant display of unsophistication, something that is as rare in Hollywood as a goat with upper teeth, she is a peculiarly appealing little figure.

And oh, how she does work! In all this town I do not believe there are two people who work as she and I do. I told her this the other evening and she said, "It is to forget I work, monsieur. What is in for that you work?"

I started to tell her that I was working to get a home to bring you, Bee, and someday I cannot tell why the words died in my throat. It wasn't because I did not want her to know it, neither was it because I was not working for that, but somehow I just couldn't tell her, that's all.

I simply made some foolish remark about it being impossible for me to let up work whether I wanted to or not.

This is a beautiful spot out here, Bee, and yet I am almost sure you won't like it. You are too conventional. Your life is bounded by too many rules to see any merit in these people who work like demons when they do work and play and laze away the hours when they are not working in a way that I have never known grown people to do before.

You intimated in your last letter that you were ready to come if I wanted you. Of course I want you and yet I just can't see my way clear to come for you. Mr. Einstein said the other day it would probably be a year before I would be able to get out of the town. Of course I never would have the temerity to ask you to come to me, for you are not the girl, Bee, to cross the continent to marry the man you love. You would rather wait, I am sure, until I can come to you. I will then have that bungalow and have it fixed absolutely in the way that will make you more than comfortable when I get you here.

Must close now, dear, because word has just come to me that Paula Perier has fainted on the set and they are having hard work to revive her. Poor girl, I know something like this would happen to her. She has been working altogether too hard.

Your devoted, DICK.

Adventures Of The Twins

The Circus Fairy

The next person Nancy and Nick met in Dixie Land was the circus fairy.

They didn't know he was a fairy until he told them so. But after he had waved a little stick and changed himself into a parrot and back again, and into a donkey and back again, and into a gold fish and back again, they believed him.

He explained that he was in Dixie Land to see after the lemonade-peanut crop for next year.

"I've just been over to the lemon orchard and the trees are simply loaded," he said. "Great big fellows as yellow as canary birds."

"How do they make pink lemonade?" asked Nancy.

"Out of pink lemons," said the circus fairy quickly. "Or that is they would make it out of pink lemons if they were any pink lemons to make it out of. Perhaps they put roses in it. I'll watch next time and see and I'll write you a letter and tell you, if you give me your address. But there! We're spending all our time talking about lemons! As though the elephants cared a whoop-de-dee about lemonade! Why they are staying awake nights dreaming—I mean worrying—about peanuts, and it's up to me to see that the crop of peanuts in Dixie Land is bigger than ever. Come along, kiddies! Left, right, left, right, step to the peanut field. Here we are!"

"Why there isn't a tree!" cried Nick. "I thought nuts grew on trees."

"Not peanuts," explained the circus fairy. "They grow on these little bushes in the sand."

"Why, I don't see a nut!" said Nancy, dropping down on her knees.

"That's because the peanut bushes are too modest to boast. But the nuts are these just the same. As soon as a nut begins to grow on the end of a little branch, the bush shakes the nut down into the sand and to do the rest of its growing and to get ripe. I'm going to peep! Come along and peep, too, if you wish."

So Nancy and Nick followed the circus fairy along the sandy rows, and every here and there where he scraped away patches of sand, wasn't there a fine peanut hiding underneath!

"My, but there are a lot!" said Nick.

"I don't think the elephants need to worry," nodded the circus fairy happily. "Or the children, either. Now I'll go and tell the peanut man to get his roaster ready, and the paper-bag man to get his paper bags ready. Everything is in fine shape in Dixie Land."

With that he disappeared.

"PINCH HITTER" FOR MOTHERS
 Dayton, O.—Miss Forest Allen of this city acts as pinch hitter for parents.

If there is a mother who finds she must leave during the day and is kept from it because of the necessity to care for her baby, Miss Allen comes with help. She has established a "nursery register," as executive secretary of the Young Women's League for just such conditions.

Besides, mothers who find themselves helpless at the eleventh hour—a pressing social

Miss Allen, or business engagement and no one to care for the baby—call for her aid. Miss Allen sends up one of a list of girls who are ready to do nursery work for pay.

Thus Miss Allen has established a miniature employment bureau, doing good work both ways.

MONTHS OF WORK REQUIRED BEFORE TEMPLE IS READY

New Masonic Building Will Provide Accommodations For Hundreds

Months of work are ahead before the new Masonic temple at the corner of College and Chestnut will be ready for use by Waverly lodge and affiliated bodies of the Masonic order. No attempt is being made to set a date of opening or dedication until the work has progressed much further than now.

The exterior is complete even to the art windows but only part of the interior construction has been carried out. The partitions are built and most of the rough plastering has been done. Workmen now are laying the base for the terrazzo floors in the basement and on main floor. Some of the ornamentation which will be part of the decorating effects also is being carried out.

Laying of terrazzo floors will take a long time. Almost the entire building will have floors of this kind except perhaps the principal lodge room.

Each floor will have a fireplace in the social rooms, and the ornamental work on the mantles of these also requires considerable time.

Arrangement of the temple is such that there will be ample room for functions attended by hundreds of people. One is convinced of this by a glimpse at the large social hall on the main floor, the immense dining room below, and the commodious hall itself. The whole east wing is devoted to the lodge room and the social and banquet halls. The other wing contains social quarters for the boys, a general reception room and a recreation room for the lodge members. All these are on the three principal floors and located at the front of the structure overlooking College-ave. The wing will be lighted by spacious windows on three sides. An auxiliary lodge room for business meetings also is included in this wing.

The stairways are in the Norman Tudor tower at the inner corner of the "L" and are similar to a winding staircase with frequent and spacious landings. A circular staircase with two flights of steps and enclosed in a dome-shaped corridor leads from the main floor into the dining hall in the basement. A cab entrance opens onto the west driveway.

The most nearly complete part of the building is the boiler room in the northwest corner of the basement. Two huge heating boilers are operating to heat the building for the workmen. The kitchen, extending across the entire east end of the dining hall, also is nearing completion. The tile floor is laid and part of the equipment is in place.

Children And Adults Eager For Radio Books

Grown people are not the only ones who are "crazy" about radio, for reports from Appleton Public Library say that in the children's department the books most called for are those on radio and electricity. These include "The Boy Electrician" by A. P. Morgan, "Harper's Book of Wireless" by A. H. Verrill and "Book of Wireless" by A. F. Collins. A sign that spring is not so far away was evidenced when boys and girls began asking for bird books, especially the one written by T. W. Burgess and "The First Book of Birds" by Mrs. O. T. Miller.

"Butterfly" by Kathleen Norris is most in demand among Appleton fiction readers at present, and the "Life of Christ" by Papini is still attracting wide attention. "Wanderings in China" by Frank has replaced "Alaska—Our Northern Wonderland" as the most popular book on travel this week. Charles Norris' book, "Bread," also has had a large circulation lately.

"The Midlander," Booth Turkington's new story, recently added to the library of the growth of the middle west and of one of the men, tells the story of a boy educated at the University of New Haven who helped shape the growth. The story has a sweep of three generations, but is centered in the character of the Midlander, Ben Oliphant. To him this stupendous, all embracing, destruction and reconstruction which is in progress is a thing almost sublime—his tragedy, happiness and destiny. "The country grows so big," he says on the night his son is born, "and it grows so magnificent that when I thought of what sort of a world it's going to be for my son, I declare I was almost afraid to look at him; it was like looking at somebody that's been to a god." To the midlander's brother, who still clings to the older and more romantic culture and listens with apprehension to the trampling feet of the new generation, it is anything but sublime. But when his brother is faced by a material failure of all that he has striven for and agonizedly feels that his whole life has gone for naught, he says of it: "Even if he falls, he's at least been a branch of the growing tree, though we don't know where its growing or why."

INCOME TAX BLANKS WILL BE MAILED BY END OF WEEK

Leo J. Toonen, county assessor of incomes, expects to have the state income blanks ready for mailing not later than the latter part of the week. Approximately 14,000 report blanks will be sent out from his office at the courthouse.

Gib Horst plays at Lamer's Hall-Little Chute every Wednesday.

$2.70 TON BONUS ON SUGAR BEET CROP

BY W. F. WINSEY
According to Joseph A. Bask, field man with headquarters in Little Chute, The Menominee River Sugar Company has declared a bonus in the neighborhood of $2.70 a ton to be paid to sugar beet growers who last autumn were under contract with either the Green Bay sugar company or the Menominee company. This bonus will be paid on Feb. 10.

The size of the bonus is an agreeable surprise to a large number of beet growers in Mr. Bask's territory who were not expecting it to be more than $1.50 a ton. For instance, W. F. Bose, a beet grower in the vicinity of Terrace Gardens who raised 220 tons of beets from 30 acres for which received under contract $6.50 a ton or a total $1,300, when asked by Mr. Bask what bonus he expected the company to pay him in addition to the regular contract price, replied "Not more than $1.50 per ton."

GERMAN RELIEF MONEY CALLED IN FROM BANKS

Outagamie county's campaign for the German children relief fund is officially at an end and banks have been notified by letter from Hugh G. Corbett, secretary of the drive to turn in their money and receipt books at once. The money then will be sent to the state campaign headquarters in Milwaukee.

No definite report has been obtained on the amount which has been given at the various banks, but the committee is hoping the fund will exceed the $2,000 mark. Large amounts in addition have been sent direct by some of the towns, churches and other organizations.

Chicago & North Western System

C. & N. W. Ry. The Railroad Dollar

SOME men in public life are proposing to compel reductions in rates with no thought of making such reductions possible by aiding in the reduction of expenses.

THE railroads today are returning back to the people by way of wages, purchase of materials and supplies, and taxes, almost all the money they take in.

IF REDUCTIONS in rates are to be had, there must first be some way of reducing expenses.

THE present level of freight rates is not caused by the valuation of the railroads nor by the net return they are receiving.

IN 1922 each dollar received from patrons of the Chicago and North Western Railway Company was used as follows:

Paid for materials	- 32.66 cents
Paid for taxes	- 6.16 cents
Paid for labor	- 48.92 cents
Paid for interest	- 7.67 cents
Paid for rentals	- 0.59 cents
Paid for dividends	- 4.00 cents
Total	- 100.00 cents

A STUDY of the foregoing table will show where the railroad dollar is going.

Haggerty Of Michigan And Miner Of Ohio Among Best In Conference

George Haggerty of Michigan and Johnny Miner, Ohio State, are back on the basketball courts again this season. To followers of Western conference competition that means more than a little. For in 1923, Haggerty and Miner stood out as two of the best goal tossers in Big Ten circles.

As good as this pair was last year they are reported to be even better this season. In fact, both Haggerty and the Buckeyes depend in no small degree on the sensational performance of these two chaps to elevate their respective teams to a top-notch berth in conference standings.

This will be Haggerty's second campaign as a Wolverine. In 1923 his work occasioned a good bit of surprise for after reporting to the Maize and Blue as a practically unknown, he beat Harry Kipke, All-American foot ball star and a basketballer of note, out of a place on the first quintet.

Miner is a veteran at Ohio State. He is captain of this year's outfit and thus far has proved the real star of the team. Time and again Miner has come through with sensational field goals to pull the game out of the fire for the Columbus aggregation.

Coach Denney Hopeful Of Finding Good Material Among Candidates

Coach A. C. Denney got a rise out of 25 men in his first call for Lawrence college track entrants. He expects to start putting them through their paces soon and preparing them for the spring cinder path classics.

Denney looks forward to a promising season as there is a good sprinkling of veterans of old seasons and several freshmen are backed by good prep school records. He expects more to chalk up their names within the next few days.

COBB IS WEEDING
OUT OLD FAVORITES

Only Four Of The Players Inherited From Jennings Remain On Tiger Staff

Detroit—The passing of Bobby Veach as a member of the Detroit team marks the exit of one more player Manager Cobb inherited from Hughie Jennings when he took charge of the Tigers in 1921.

Cobb plays no sentiment in baseball. One by one he has got rid of the old timers who wore the Navin spanglers during the Jennings regime until today there remain but four who were with the club four years ago. They are Harry Heilmann, George Daus, Bobby Jones and Larry Woodall.

The above list, of course, doesn't include Cobb. Ty, however, has been a member of the Tigers ever since 1905, his first season in the majors. Incidentally, he is the oldest player in point of service in the big leagues today.

In the three campaigns the Georgian has piloted the team Detroit fans have witnessed the exit of many old favorites. For instance there were "Pep" Young, second baseman; Oscar Stanage, catcher; "Dutch" T. Egan, pitcher; "Chief" Smeaton, outfielder; "Don" Bush, shortstop, and others. Bush was one of the most popular players Detroit ever had. Bush came to Detroit in 1908.

As will be seen, Cobb is gradually weeding out the old chaps and making way for the youngsters. The coach is a great believer in young blood on the diamond.

St. Louis

Despite the fact that Urban Shocker, star pitcher of the St. Louis Browns, has signed his contract, there is a feeling that he will not be with the local team this year.

Withdrawal of the suit on the part of Shocker was made possible by the intervention of Bobby Quinn, who formerly handled the affairs of the St. Louis club, but who is now president of the Boston Red Sox.

President Quinn of the Boston Red Sox came on to Chicago for a conference with Shocker and President Johnson. It took only a short time to settle the matter. Shocker withdrew his petition to Landis and signing a St. Louis contract.

It is questionable, however, if the ill-feeling between Shocker and the management of the Browns has been erased. If not, he wouldn't be a very valuable man for the club.

Local fans fear that Quinn, in signing Shocker, was feathering his own nest and that the sale of Shocker to Boston is a possibility of the immediate future.

AWAIT APPROVAL OF POSTPONEMENT
OF BOXING CARD

Commission Expected To Sanction Feb. 14 Date For Next Program Here

Elmer Johnston, promoter for the Mid West Athletic association is expecting confirmation from the Wisconsin Boxing commission of the postponement of the fight between Jimmy Austin, the Muskegon, Mich., bearcat, and John Sheik Zwick, the Kaukauna mauler, which is set for Feb. 14. Johnston doesn't expect any difficulty from the commission which has advised him that if the corrections in dates and that sort of thing are correctly made there will be no objection to the valentine package for Appleton fight fans.

The promoter announced that Washie Hendricks, Kaukauna, and Ray Johnson, Green Bay, who fought a bloody battle here on the last card, have been rematched for the semi-windup. Johnston, with a short notice, substituted for another fighter on the last card and claims he was in poor condition when he fought Hendricks. He was pretty badly hit up when the fight was ended but was as game as they make them.

The remainder of the attractive card is being arranged by Mr. Johnston. He has announced that Dauber Jaeger of Fond du Lac, again will officiate in the arena.

INDIANS WEAKENED
BY LOSS OF O'NEILL

Cleveland Left Without a Seasoned Catcher To Assist Young Pitchers

Veteran American League players are inclined to think that the passing of Catcher Steve O'Neill will seriously handicap the chances of the Cleveland Indians. They base their belief on the fact that the Indians are now without a seasoned batsman.

In the spring of last year Glenn Myatt, secured by Cleveland from Milwaukee, was given the preference over O'Neill. He got away to a good start and his hitting for a time was sensational.

Then when seemingly at the top of his game, due for a big season, he slumped, and O'Neill was rushed in to the breach. From that time on Myatt lost his title of first-string catcher. During the remainder of the year O'Neill did most of the work.

The great value of an experienced heavy catcher like O'Neill is hard to figure on a club that has several promising recruits. In Jim Edwards and Joe Shaute, Cleveland has two promising southpaws. Whether they will work as well for the young Cleveland catchers as they did for O'Neill is a question.

Undoubtedly the burden of the Cleveland catching will fall on Luke Sewell and Glenn Myatt, and as yet neither has proved that he is a first stringer, able to go the route. They have plenty of natural ability, however, and Speaker seems willing to take

MILLIONS LOST IN STORM OVER MID-WEST U. S.

News Wires Routed All Around
Country To Reach Chicago
And Wisconsin

World was compelled to use radio to broadcast news for morning papers that filtered in over round-about circuits.

Ordinarily the hub of wires carrying Associated Press dispatches to New York, New Orleans, San Francisco and other points, Chicago received outside news after a wide detour was made to pass around sections where communications were severed.

The wires were so routed as to feed virtually every American city to the Pacific coast and back again before touching Chicago. Starting at New York, the lines passed through Washington, Atlanta, New Orleans, St. Louis, Kansas City, Oklahoma City, Denver and St. Paul before their burden of news was finally landed in Chicago. San Francisco and other Pacific coast points also were served from this route. Relief trains many of them summoned by radio and air, and the water supply exhausted and the water supply exhausted and the passengers in danger from the cold.

Passengers on most of the stalled trains were enabled to obtain shelter for the night at town and stations near the points where they were marooned. One train at Waupaca, Wis., reported by radio that its fires were out and the water supply exhausted and the passengers in danger from the cold.

WIND CAUSES DAMAGE

The snow and sleet at Wooster and Evansville, Ind., were accompanied by a gale which assumed the proportions of a tornado. Buildings were wrecked and property damaged. Messer reports thousands of dollars' worth of damage. There was no casualties. City and suburban street cars throughout Wisconsin and Minnesota and in Chicago and vicinity were stalled and delayed by sleet and ice Monday night and early Tuesday. Taxicab companies in Chicago and Milwaukee refused to accept calls except on streets where street car lines operated, because their cabs were being caught in drifted snow which in many places was piled waist high.

$1,000,000 LOSS

Loss to wire communication in the vicinity of Milwaukee was estimated at $1,000,000 and similar conditions were reported to be general in the northwest and the Lake region.

Whether forecasters in Chicago promised little relief for Tuesday. The trend of the storm is toward the east, with its fury diminishing on its way. Temperatures generally were not low and a minimum of 18 above zero was promised for Chicago and vicinity. Hundreds of men were employed in Chicago throughout the night removing the drifted snow from the streets of the business section and keeping lanes open for vehicle traffic.

RUSS REBEL LEADER SENTENCED TO DEATH

By Associated Press
Moscow—General Penelopev, former commander of the Siberian white army, and 20 of his followers have been sentenced to death by the military tribunal at Chita for their counter-revolutionary activities in Siberia after Kolchak's fall. Fifty-seven others were given various prison terms. The sentences have not yet been carried out, as General Penelopev asked for mercy, which it is thought will be granted.

General Penelopev, with his staff of about 100 officers, was captured by Soviet forces last July, putting an end to the last resistance of the Whites to the Soviet Regime in Siberia.

TWO AUTOS HIT POLES TO AVOID COLLISION

Two automobiles ran into telegraph poles at the corner of Union and Pacific streets Saturday noon when attempting to avert a collision. One was a Valley Dairy Products Co. truck driven by Walter Steenis and the other a car driven by A. W. Priest. Mr. Steenis suffered a number of cuts but was able to continue with his work. Mr. Priest was unhurt.

Mr. Priest was proceeding south on Union st., according to bystanders and the truck came west on Pacific. Mr. Steenis swung sharply to the left when he saw the Priest car approaching, but was unable to turn far enough to give the latter clearance. Both headed toward the curb and each car hit a pole. The truck at the same time coming in contact with the other.

Both automobiles were damaged but the truck received the worst of the encounter.

Plays Janitor For "Smelling Up" Dormitory

A certain young man at Brookview hall is very certain that he has had all he wants of a smell which is produced by a certain variety of "stink bombs." After working for two days to clean the corridors of the men's dormitory at Lawrence college, he has decided that if he wants to play any more pranks, they will not be of the "stink bomb" variety.

Several days ago a very bad smell drove many of the inmates of the dormitory outside for purer air. The smell drove Dean F. M. Ingler to do a little investigating and he found the guilty person, a young man who had returned from his home by way of Chicago and had purchased a quantity of powder which was guaranteed to produce an evil odor. He had used them in the dormitory and found that the guarantee was entirely satisfactory.

As a punishment for his frivolity he was put to work.

DREAM OF GREAT SEAPORT IN AREA NEAR NORTH POLE

Navy May Establish Mooring
Station At Point Barrow
For Dirigible

Washington—Point Barrow, Alaska, has its harbors open to shipping only a few weeks each year.

But it may become a world port of great importance in the race of nations for a new continent and new trade routes over the north pole.

It is doubtful if the navy's dirigible, "Shenandoah" clears from Point Barrow on its polar flight this summer. But the navy planning board, headed by Rear Admiral Moffett, urges construction of a permanent mooring and supply station at Barrow for use in subsequent aerial trips.

Difficulties in shipping supplies and erecting mooring masts may cause the "Shenandoah" to fly from Nome toward the pole, rather than from Point Barrow. But if the planning board has its way, materials for the permanent equipment may be shipped in August, and the work completed in time for use next summer.

Point Barrow, 117 miles from the north pole, is America's northernmost community. It is at the edge of an unexplored arctic area a million square miles in extent.

The few white persons there—mainly school teachers, traders and missionaries—will mail orders in November, 1924, for the supplies they will use during the winter and spring of 1925-26. The veteran coast guard cutter Bear pays a brief visit as soon as ice permits in August, bringing in the supplies ordered last fall, and possibly a teacher. If the water remains unfrozen a few weeks some tiny whalers and fur traders' schooners may visit—a big occasion up there.

But if the government continues its explorations for undiscovered lands in the polar basin—lands of great strategic value to over-the-pole airplanes from Europe to Asia—Point Barrow will give American air expeditions a tremendous advantage. With this point as a refueling base, prolonged cruises will be an easy matter.

Geographic conditions around Point Barrow are ideal for such bases, but the native population, 90 per cent Eskimos, would have to be trained to man the big dirigibles or Uncle Sam would be compelled to maintain the world's farthest north naval base.

FRENCH DECRY GERMAN MOVING PICTURE SHOW

By Associated Press
Paris—Many Frenchmen believe the Germans are conducting an anti-French propaganda through the movies. They point to the fact that scandals of French history, night life in Paris, and unfavorable aspects of French politics are used so often by the German producers that the purpose clearly is to hurt French prestige.

3-DAY STORM HALTS TRAIN SERVICE HERE

Wire Communication With South
Destroyed By Sleet Storm
Near Milwaukee

templated Tuesday because of the wind but snowflakes were expected to work their way through Wednesday.

FOUR TRAINS STALLED
The main line of the Soo was in operation as far north as Neenah up to a late hour Monday evening. Four passenger trains became stalled there and were kept up the line. It was expected that removal of the snow would start Tuesday so these trains could be moved.

The only transportation service in Appleton Monday morning was that furnished by Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power Co. and was made possible by a constant battle with the drifts since the storm started Sunday night. Cars were operating from Appleton to Neenah and Kimberly and service was regular on the city lines. There was some difficulty in keeping schedule but passengers were able to go back and forth with reasonable promptness.

CAR IS DISABLED
An interurban car which became disabled in the cut near Riverview sanatorium defeated the efforts to keep the entire line open. The snowplow and two interurban cars were working their way toward the disabled car Tuesday morning and it was expected the line would be opened during the afternoon. An interurban car which happened to be at Kaukauna has been kept in operation between that city and the sanatorium to keep that stretch open. At Appleton were turning trolleys at Kimberly.

Telephone service was badly crippled Monday and the situation was improved little Tuesday. Most of the trouble appeared to be between Fond du Lac and Milwaukee, and between Milwaukee and Chicago, due to a sleet storm which took poles, lines and everything with it.

MILWAUKEE CUT OFF
The Western Union office here was able to clear all of its messages Monday night by way of Green Bay, and from there to Chicago and Minneapolis. Communication had not been re-established with Milwaukee Tuesday morning and there was no indication when the lines might be mended sufficiently to give prompt service to patrons. A number of poles were broken in the vicinity of West Bend and Port Washington, it was said.

Postal Telegraph Co. service also was hampered because of this same condition, although messages were being transmitted by a roundabout method.

There was no more trouble than usual at the local exchange of the Wisconsin Telephone company. Long distance service to the south still was impossible Tuesday morning because of the sleet storm which wrecked the plant in the vicinity of Milwaukee and Menomonee Falls. It was believed temporary service would be possible during the day. Calls were transmitted as far south as West Bend. Practically the entire Appleton district of 19 counties maintained normal service and was able to loan its crews to the stricken district.

WALK TO HORTONVILLE

Local repair work on telephone lines was made difficult because of inability of automobiles to operate. It was impossible to obtain transportation to the country districts even with horses and sleighs. Men who had to repair rural lines were obliged to walk, one of them starting for Hortonville because of a broken horse.

Appleton exchange had difficulty in obtaining a full force of operators for its switchboards Tuesday morning because many girls were unable to dig their way out of their homes. A snowmobile used by a repair crew was put into service and brought most of them to the office. One young woman who lives on the outskirts of the city had to remain home, however, because the drifts were almost as high as the roof and the motor vehicle could not get within a block of the house.

Taxicabs were never more popular than during the storm. Every local company kept a line of cabs in continuous operation from Sunday night to 2 o'clock Tuesday morning. When traffic subsided the roads drifted in so badly that machines had to make their own tracks. After two or three companies had cabs stalled for an hour or two late in the night they all gave up the fight. No calls were answered after 2 o'clock in the morning and the service continued dormant Tuesday morning except in the downtown section. They did not expect to resume until the streets were opened up. Calls came in so fast the companies hardly could fill the demand for machines, as people who wanted to go found this about the only possible means unless they lived along street car routes.

NO CAR SERVICE

Interurban service on the Neenah-Oshkosh line was abandoned Monday night and there were no indications when it would be resumed. The snowplow was working toward Neenah, it was understood, and there were hopes cars would arrive before the day was over. Motorbus service also was suspended because of the drifts.

Railway mail service has been paralyzed since 6 o'clock Monday night. With no mail coming in from any direction, the postoffice was a quiet and desolate looking place.

The last mail to reach this city from the north was on Train No. 116, Chicago and Northwestern Railway, due in Appleton at 4:10 Monday afternoon but arriving here at about 5:40.

Mail from the south last reached Appleton at about 6 o'clock Monday night on Train No. 113 which was due to arrive here at 2:47 in the afternoon. With no mail arriving from out of the city, Tuesday, there was but lit-

CONGREGATIONAL MOVIE FOR TONIGHT POSTPONED

The motion picture, "Grandma's Boy" which the Baraca Sunday school class was to present at the First Congregational church Tuesday evening has been postponed indefinitely. The class failed to arrive because of the cessation of mail service. A new date probably will be set as soon as the weather improves.

START DRIVE TO PUT SMITH IN WHITE HOUSE

New York—The national campaign to obtain the democratic presidential nomination for Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York was launched Tuesday by the Alfred E. Smith for President clubs, under the slogan, "of the people, for the people."

Personal holdings of late John F. Dodge, Detroit automobile maker are listed at $32,312,442 and state of Michigan will get $936,633 inheritance taxes.

President Coolidge wished to suspend all government activities Wednesday, Woodrow Wilson's funeral but discovery of law passed in 1893 prevents such suspension for a former official, Washington advises decline.

Rear Admiral Thomas Oliver Selfridge, retired, dies at Washington.

Carrier Joseph Tennie of Route No. 1 narrowly escaped injury Monday when his cab tipped over. In spite of his lame leg, he managed to extricate himself. The thills were stuck between the horse's legs, and the carrier found it impossible to get the carriage without help. He unhitched the horse and rode horseback for a half mile until he managed to get help. After that he returned to the office.

The fire department was spared trouble, the only alarm coming in being one to extinguish a small blaze near the Fox River Chevrolet garage at about 11 o'clock Monday night. The blaze was extinguished by stamping it out and without use of water or chemicals. Only the chief's car responded to the call.

WORKED ALL NIGHT

The greatest menace to the safety of Appleton property Monday night was the endangered fire alarm system. The signal wires broke in a few instances and other wires sagging brought contacts with electric light and other wires, producing short circuits. But by working practically all night and exposing himself to the cold and endangering himself on the poles while the winds stormed about him, Louis Luebke, fire department electrician, managed to keep the alarm system in operation.

Both platoons of the department personnel were kept on duty both Monday night and Tuesday, ready to act in any emergency that might arise, for to battle a fire in the midst of Monday night's storm would have been a handicap indeed.

Both the water and fire departments were asked to aid the Chicago and Northwestern railway which was vainly trying to force four of its engines through the snow to the stand pipe at Appleton Junction. When the engines ran out of water, the water department with the aid of fire apparatus ran hoses to a hydrant and filled up the locomotive tanks. The same procedure was necessary in a severe storm last winter.

The street department under the direction of Robert M. Connelly, city engineer, encountered its greatest task of the year when challenged by the snow storm of Monday night and Tuesday.

Trucks and snow plow tractors worked into the night. The automobile trucks were finally halted by the heavy drifts and found it impossible to force the plows through. An extra caterpillar tractor was borrowed from Greunke Brothers and put to work.

Extra crews of workmen were employed to shovel snow upon bob sleighs and extra teams of horses were used. The department was hiring practically everybody it could obtain for the snow removal work Tuesday morning. Little hope was held forth in opening the roads for automobile traffic until the storm abated.

The companies of "Up She Goes" and the Rhondia Welsh choir are the enforced guests of local hotels because of the storm. In all probability they will not be able to meet their engagements for Tuesday evening and possibly Wednesday. Mrs. Ida Gray, policeman of Green Bay, is among the hotel guests who will not be able to leave the city until storm conditions are overcome.

More than 600 students were present at the high school on Tuesday morning. The students are being excused on account of the storm but there will be regular classes for those who come. It is impossible for the hundred or more students who live in the country to get in to school and many of the children who come a long distance and who live in the outlying parts of town are not in school. The percentage of attendance is about 50 per cent.

It took a group of Little Chute bowlers who were coming home from Janesville all night to come from Fond du Lac to Appleton. They were able to reach Menasha by train after strenuous efforts and got as far as Appleton on the interurban during the night. They expected to get through to Little Chute by noon.

A snowplow went north over the Northwestern road at 1:45 Monday afternoon and was closely followed by the 11:20 morning train. It went as far as Green Bay and returned late in the afternoon.

A switch engine tried to reach Appleton Junction at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning. It encountered two drifts of snow several feet high between College and Lawrence and after an unsuccessful attempt to get through the second one returned to the freight depot.

Residents of the exposed portions of the Fifth ward reported snowdrifts Tuesday morning from five to eight feet high. In some places the ground is bare.

BABE RUTH PAID $52,000 A YEAR

By Associated Press
New York—Babe Ruth's contract with the New York Yankees has three years to run at an annual figure of $52,000. This, it was said Tuesday is the result of the club's decision to exercise the two year agreement in 1922. In round figures, the Babe's salary will be a quarter of a million for the five year period, but from a variety of sources including barnstorming, his earnings may double that amount.

One clause of the contract is designed to keep Ruth on the straight and narrow path of good conduct under it the Yankees hold back the salary of every other month until the end of the season when the slugger is handed a check for $26,000.
